Map of New York

Why is there a lot of people in New York?

There is a lot of people in New York because there has been an exceed of birth and a lot less death!

But also it was connected by the Erie canal which led to a lot of immigration.

There is about 8 million people that live in New York.

(the density is 10 194 people per square kilometre)

Positive points about living in New York

New York is a cultural melting pot

New York has you covered day or night

New York has the best public transport network in the US

New York offers cuisines to satisfy any craving

New York has excellent international connectivity

New York has highly-rated educational institutions

Negative points about living in New York

Conclusion

I think that you should live in New York if you want to start a business or if you like big cities but overall there is still a high criminality rate and New York is expensive.

For me though I would love living in New York because I love big cities.

Australia

Why is there not a lot of people there ?

Why is there not a lot of people in Australia ?

There is not a lot of people in Australia because of its geographical site in the world and a lot of the land can not be occupied (desert).

There is 26 million people that live in Australia (the density is 2 people per square kilometre)

Positive points

1. Australia's healthcare system is one of the many pros for choosing Australia as your place of residence ...

2. High Living Standards ...

3. Climate and Nature ...

4. Immigration Opportunities and a Multicultural Environment ...

5. Education System ...

6. A Low Crime Rate ...

7. Different Work Visas ...

8. The amazing great barrier reef ...

Negative points

1. High Cost of Living Australia may pride itself on having a high standard of living, but this comes at a price. ...

2. A sense of Isolation ...

3. Expensive Healthcare Insurance ...

4. Extreme Weather Conditions ...

5. Natural disasters

6. Racism ...

7. Culture Shock and Language Barrier ...

8. High Cost of Education for International Students ...

Conclusion

I think that living in Australia is good if you want to be calm because in the North there is not a lot of people, however in the south like Sydney, Melbourne and Canberra (the capital) there is a lot of people.

For me I would still like to live in Australia even though I love big cities, but I would still rather New York.
